Books for Missions

TEACH Services' mission is to encourage and strengthen individuals around the world through books that point readers to Christ.

"Let the publications containing Bible truth be scattered like the leaves of autumn."

—E.G. White, In Heavenly Places, p323

It is that belief that sparked the TEACH Books for Missions project. TEACH supplies the books, and you choose the destination, location, and pay the postage. It's that simple!

TEACH has books packaged and ready to go. You or your group select the location and the number of boxes you'd like to send. Then TEACH will ship the books to the selected mission location. All mission locations have been verified by church and conference leadership.

TEACH Services' History

In January of 1984 a small home in Harrisville, New Hampshire became the maiden office of TEACH Services. The mission of the newly-formed publishing company was to encourage and strengthen individuals around the world through the distribution of books that point readers to Christ.

The secondary mission was to make more Adventist materials available in the areas of health and Christian living. Because of the company's focus on teaching others about Christ and healthful living, the name TEACH Services was selected.

Since its inception, TEACH Services has published thousands of titles. The company is dedicated to working with Adventist authors, reprinting classic Adventist titles (including the early writings of Adventist pioneers), and translating titles into other languages. Through the years, and still to this day, the publishing mission remains clear—point readers to Christ.
